The Cities Search for Surface Water Supplies

A press release from the New Orleans district office of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers reports that a public meeting has been called in Minden, La., at 2 p.m. March 8 "to discuss a tentative plan of improvement for municipal and industrial water supply."

The proposed Minden project is for a dam and multi-purpose reservoir on Bayou Dorcheat, nine miles southwest of Magnolia.

Minden is the latest example of a city looking for surface-water supplies to meet the tremendous consumer demand now and in the future. Ever since our Millwood Dam and Reservoir were projected two decades ago this editor has been campaigning to get Hope out of the business of depending on deep wells and start looking for surface water. Wells are the only source for farmers and other individuals outside the municipal service area; therefore the cities are guilty of poaching on other citizens' rights when they tap the water sands for huge quantities.

It was this thought which caused our editor to initiate at a Senate Rivers and Harbors Committee hearing in Washington an amendment to the original Millwood plan to allow for municipal, industrial and agricultural water. The Millwood bill was changed accordingly and a 2-foot level over the reservoir was set for municipal use.

My idea was to lay a pipeline to bring Millwood's water into Hope—giving this city a way to overcome its handicap of not being situated on a river. But failure to line up other cities in support of the pipeline posed a financial problem for a single town.

Hope has since turned toward plans to develop a smaller watershed, much as Minden is now considering.

It still like the pipeline idea with the unlimited water supply of Little River and Millwood Reservoir. But any plan is good that gets us out of the deep well business.

Value Added Tax to Be Discussed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon and Treasury Secretary John Connally will discuss the value-added tax this weekend, but Nixon says he can't predict the outcome.

"We have not yet found a way, frankly, that we could recommend it to replace the property tax," Nixon told newsmen Thursday. "But, with the obligation to face up to reduce or reform property taxes, the Treasury Department necessarily is considering other methods of taxation."

Still, as Nixon spoke, administration officials were presenting a favorable view of value-added taxation to a governmental committee opening a study of the plan.

The tax, a form of national sales tax collected in stages, was put before the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations Thursday in favorable terms by Elliot L. Richardson, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

Robert E. Merriam of Chicago, commission chairman, said Nixon "said directly and unequivocally to me he had not made up his mind."

The plan described to the 24-member commission would involve a value-added tax of about 3 per cent, raising $18 billion. Of this, $5 billion would be used for income-tax rebates and credits to ease the effect of the new levy on low-income persons.

About $13 billion would be distributed to the states, on the condition that local residential property taxes for schools be dropped. These amount to about half the property taxes on homes.

The distribution could be on the basis of $1 for each $2 of state support.

Richardson said the tax could be made much less regressive, that is, easier on the lower incomes.

In addition, he said, states will need help if the Supreme Court upholds lower-court rulings that the financing of schools by local property taxes leads to inequities and is unconstitutional.

Labor Angry at Move to Limit Strikes

By NEIL GILBRIDE
Associated Press Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Angry at moves by the White House and Congress to limit strikes, labor leaders say compulsory arbitration could lead to industrial warfare and federal economic dictatorship over both labor and industry.

"Compulsory arbitration as a method of ending deadlocks would hamstring both trade unions and management," said the executive board of the AFL-CIO Maritime Trades Department.

"Each side would be forced to weigh its demands against what we might feel would be acceptable to government—with the government's mighty hand, rather than the give-and-take of negotiations, controlling our actions," the union group said in a resolution due for consideration and almost certain approval today.

"This could result only in a controlled economy, with government deciding the level of wages as well as the level of productivity and profits."

Some AFL-CIO officials, holding their annual winter meeting here, predicted the law Congress passed Wednesday to force an end to the long West Coast dock strike might jeopardize a negotiated settlement that was reached before the law was passed.

High officials of the 13.6-million-member labor federation are also fearful that the momentum of passage of the West Coast dock strike bill might lead to approval of President Nixon's proposal for permanent legislation to restrict strikes in transportation industries.

"We fought the bill for compulsory arbitration in the dock strike and we will certainly fight the permanent legislation," said a spokesman for

McClellan Is Running

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., announced today that he will seek re-election.

The 76-year-old senator made the announcement in his Little Rock office.

"Although we have developed a strong momentum of progress in our state, the task is not yet finished," he told newsmen. "There is still much to do. We must accelerate the momentum that we have already obtained and continue in Arkansas the march of progress."

AFL-CIO President George Meany.

"Congress is considering legislative proposals that would effectively limit the right to strike among millions of workers employed in longshoring, shipping, trucking, railway and airline industries," said the Maritime Department, representing 44 unions with 8 million members.

Voluntary Compliance

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's Phase 2 economic controls may be replaced by a "social compact" between big business and labor to restrain wages and prices voluntarily, a high Treasury Department official says.

What might result, Undersecretary Charles E. Walker said in an interview, is a self-regulating system in which powerful labor unions and businesses agree to hold the line on inflation. A government wage-price review board would watch over the system but could only seek voluntary compliance.

Emphasizing that he was expressing his own ideas on how Phase 3 might develop, Walker noted a similar stabilization plan was set up in the construction industry several months before Nixon imposed wage-price controls.

Management and labor in the construction industry finally agreed that wage-cost growth had to be slowed, he said, and both favored Nixon's self-regulating system. The construction plan is still in place, but wages and prices are subject to controls as they are with most industries.

Walker, an architect of Nixon's Phase 2 system, said powerful unions and businesses may go along with such a system because of the threat of government action to curb their powers. And such curbs may be the only alternative if a voluntary social compact is not agreed to.

There is a strong psychological incentive for such a compact, Walker said. The process of going through a wage-price freeze, then controls, may be so wrenching that the nation's economic powers would realize that it is the only thing to do to hold back inflation, he said.

Walker said that as the economy expands and the demand for goods increases, shortages eventually may result if current controls remain too long. "We're not going to have controls of this type," he said.

money allegedly spent to supplant local funds in schools with high concentrations of the target youngsters. The Minnesota case involves $311,107 spent to build and equip a library in Bemidji and supplant teacher salaries in Minneapolis.

Challenge to Apportionment

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A lawsuit challenging the legislative reapportionment plan adopted last year by the state Board of Apportionment was amended Wednesday to include as defendants members of the state Election Commission.

The Board of Apportionment and its members previously had been the only defendants.

The amendment was filed by Eugene Mazzanti of Little Rock, counsel for the plaintiffs in the case.

Water Cutoffs on S. Main Next Few Weeks

During the next three or four weeks it will be necessary to have water off for several hours on Main Street. W.C. Lee Company will be tying new water mains to existing lateral mains off Main Street.

There will be at least four times when the water will be off covering a several block area for as long as four hours. There also will be times when a block or two will be off for an hour or so.

When possible, if water is to be off for a long period of time, KXAR will be notified ahead of time and asked to make spot announcements before the water is turned off. W.C. Lee Company says this will not always be possible, but the Water and Light Plant will be notified and will know the approximate length of time it should be off.

Both W.C. Lee Company and Hope Water and Light Plant do not want to cause any unnecessary inconvenience to anyone, but this work is necessary for better future service.

Hundreds of U.S. Planes in Action

By GEORGE ESPER

Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Hundreds of U.S. and South Vietnamese warplanes pounded a 225-mile stretch of the western frontier from the demilitarized zone to the central highlands in some of the heaviest raids of the Indochina war, informants said today.

Air Force and Navy fighter-bombers and U.S. B52 heavy bombers launched about 400 strikes during the 24-hour period ending at dawn today, the informants said.

The raids ranged over South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia. Warplanes struck at North Vietnamese infiltration corridors leading from the DMZ, Laos and Cambodia into western South Vietnam, at staging areas, base camps, supply depots and troop concentrations. Their mission was to blunt the big enemy offensive which U.S. officers predict will come this month, just below the DMZ or in the central highlands and adjacent coastal lowlands.

About half of the raids were flown in South Vietnam, the heaviest since last August and September when U.S. air power helped counter a North Vietnamese push below the DMZ.

A total of 201 tactical air strikes were reported in South Vietnam, 32 more than were flown in the previous 24 hours. On both days half were flown by U.S. planes, the other half by the South Vietnamese air force, while almost all the missions in Laos and Cambodia were flown by American pilots.

In one raid on an enemy base camp in the central highlands, the U.S. Command said, helicopter gunships and bombers killed 25 enemy troops and destroyed 20 bunkers.

The command also announced that an Air Force F4 Phantom crashed Thursday night while on a mission against the Ho Chi Minh trail. The two crewmen were picked up by a helicopter this morning.

The Saigon command reported 23 enemy attacks during the 24-hour period ending at dawn today plus 38 government operations of battalion size or larger.

Communiques from the Saigon headquarters and field reports listed at least 29 South Vietnamese troops killed and 104 wounded. The South Vietnamese command claimed 149 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops killed.

Communist forces apparently trying to cut South Vietnam's busiest highway ambushed two U.S. convoys and encircled a government outpost, field reports said.

Nixon Draws Concessions Line

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has drawn the line against further concessions to the North Vietnamese until they negotiate on his eight-point peace proposal.

"The next step is up to the enemy. Our proposal is on the table and it is going to stand there until we get a reply from them," Nixon told a news conference in his White House office Thursday.

At the same time, the President appeared to hit somewhat harder at Democratic White House hopefuls who turned his earlier plea for caution in their criticism of his Vietnam policy. "The responsibility for the enemy's failing to negotiate may have to be borne by those who encourage the enemy to wait until after the election," the President said.

Although Nixon said the other side has not yet responded to the joint U.S.-South Vietnamese proposal made public Jan. 25, North Vietnamese leaders and diplomats have been quoted as rejecting it. The formula for peace includes a cease-fire, mutual troop withdrawal, and release of war prisoners.

North Vietnamese spokesmen have insisted the United States abandon support of the regime of South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Thieu has expressed unhappiness over a statement by Secretary of State William P. Rogers that the United States remains flexible on details of a possible political settlement of the war.

But Nixon said he wanted to reassure the South Vietnamese president that "there will be no new proposals made unless it is a joint proposal."

Standing behind his desk, Nixon opened his news conference by giving a general rundown on plans for his trip to Communist China, which will start next Thursday.

The President said his visit and talks with Chinese leaders "will mark a watershed in the relations between the two governments" which have been at odds for more than 20 years.

Once again, Nixon cautioned that his groundbreaking visit, first by an American president to China, "should not be one which would create very great optimism or very great pessimism."

On other matters, brought out in questioning, Nixon made these points:

Taxes—"There will be no increases in taxes this year." He denounced the property tax as regressive and said the only way the value-added tax could be considered as a source of school revenue is if its regressive features were removed.

Hospital, Doctors Fee Posting Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doctors, hospitals and nursing homes would be required to make available fee schedules for public inspection under legislation proposed by the Nixon administration.

The American Medical Association has announced it will oppose the fee-posting plan, included in a package of amendments sent to Congress Thursday. The amendments are designed to tie in with President Nixon's health insurance legislation.

The package also includes proposals to: —Require states to regulate health insurance premiums through audits of health insurance carriers and self-insured employers. No state requires such audits at present.

—Protect consumers against failing insurance companies.

—Force insurers to disclose the percentage of premiums allocated for claims.

The AMA contends the fee-posting plan and a similar requirement already imposed under Phase 2 wage-price controls will have no effect on health care costs, which last year rose at nearly double the rate of other living costs.

"It is simply not practicable for a physician to arrive at a schedule of prices for each and every one of the numerous services he may be called upon to render," the AMA said when it appealed the Phase 2 regulation imposed by the Price Commission.

Arkadelphia School Closes

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — Classes at Arkadelphia High School were dismissed before noon Thursday when about 125 white pupils gathered on the parking lot of a church across the street from the school.

School officials said those in the group apparently were upset over an incident Wednesday when two white pupils were accosted by blacks as they left the principal's office.

Supt. Robert Stephens said all schools in Arkadelphia would be closed until Monday and he would meet with "various groups" today in an attempt to ease the racial tension.

Two Killed in Plane Crash

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Two persons were killed Thursday when their single-engine Cessna 150 airplane crashed in a field about 10 miles northwest of here.

The victims were identified as Perry J. Dalton Jr., 21, of Camden, a senior at Arkansas State University who was a student pilot, and Mrs. Frances B. Morris of Wynne, an employee of Burnette Flying Service.

The services is based at Wynne but has an office at Jonesboro.

Killed in Accident

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Gary R. Sisney, 19, of Hot Springs was killed Thursday in a one-car accident seven miles south of here on Arkansas 7.

State Police said Sisney's car went out of control while traveling at a high rate of speed and overturned seven times.

Irving Seeking Deal

HEADLINE COUPLE Edith and Clifford Irving

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Los Angeles Times said today that author Clifford Irving and his research aide have admitted to federal authorities that they never met industrialist Howard Hughes, subject of Irving's purported "autobiography."

Meanwhile, The New York Times reported that Irving was seeking to exchange his cooperation in the federal fraud investigation for legal protection for his wife against prosecution in the tangled case in the United States and Switzerland.

Asked for comment, Irving's attorney, Maurice Nessen, said, "I deny the accuracy of both stories, and I am much concerned that such stories should be given headlines." He added, "I feel there shouldn't be any further comments."

The Los Angeles Times said

sources close to the federal grand jury probe of Irving's sale of the "autobiography" said Thursday that Irving and Richard Suskind, his researcher, told authorities the book wasn't written under the circumstances they had earlier claimed.

Two Killed Near Manila

MANILA, Ark. (AP) — Two persons were killed Thursday in a car-truck crash on Arkansas 77 south of Manila, in Mississippi County.

State police identified the victims as Ambrose E. Hudson, 65, of Leachville and Acie J. Effinger, 38, of Manila.

Officers said a truck driven by Hudson crossed the center line and struck Effinger's car head-on.

Social and Drug Bills Breeze Through House

By ROBERT SHAW

Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers' multi-million-dollar social services program breezed through the House 92-2 Thursday and his drug bills cleared the Senate except for one parliamentary snag.

The social services program, the heart of Bumpers' special legislative session call, would use about $9 million in state funds, about $8.5 million of which already is appropriated, to lend $26 million in federal aid for expanded community-based services.

The services are aimed at the aged, disabled, mentally retarded, physically handicapped and youths with emotional problems.

The House approved 87-0 a companion measure to appropriate $211,300 this fiscal year and $1,211,300 the next to utilize vacant Booneville Tuberculosis Sanatorium facilities to prepare the adult mentally retarded to live in their own communities.

The drug bills sailed through the Senate with only slight opposition, although Sen. Guy H. "Mutt" Jones of Conway held up the main bill by giving notice that he might desire reconsideration of the measure within three days. This parliamentary device usually is resorted to as a delaying tactic.

The Senate voted 31-0 to establish an Arkansas Drug Abuse Authority in the state Health Department, voted 30-0 to fund and staff it and voted 26-3 for the key bill, a revision of the 1971 Uniform Controlled Substances Act.

The revision clarifies some penalties, increases others, makes corrections and establishes a presumption that certain amounts of drugs are possessed for sale.

Possession for sale, a felony charge, carries a stiffer penalty than simple possession, a misdemeanor, but law enforcement officers have said it is almost impossible under the 1971 law to prove a charge of possession for sale.

In other major actions: —The Senate stripped Senate Bill 39 of an amendment and approved the bill 29-0. It would permit an Arkansas candidate for president or vice president to also seek any Arkansas office at the same time. Reportedly the measure was designed to let Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., seek re-election even if he becomes a candidate for president.

—The House approved 75-5 a bill making a supplemental appropriation of $103,644 for Arkansas AM&N College operations. Some legislators had attempted to use the measure as a vehicle for repeal or postponement of the controversial merger of the predominantly black college into the University of Arkansas. Blacks protested the merger at the Capitol Thursday. The merger is set by a 1971 law for July 1 of this year.

The two chambers have completed legislative action on 20 bills, 19 of which were completed in the Senate. The Senate approved 32 bills Thursday, bringing to 67 the number approved so far in the special session. The House approved 12 bills Thursday, bringing to 56 the number of bills it has approved.

Bills on which the Senate completed action Thursday included measures to: —Appropriate $150,000 to fund the University of Arkansas Medical Center's Rural Medical Practice Student Loan and Scholarship Program in the next fiscal year.

—Appropriate $100,000 to match $100,000 in local funds and $300,000 in Model Cities funds for a vocational high school to serve 500-600 pupils in the Texarkana area.

—Appropriate $77,600 this fiscal year and $422,000 the next for expanded Health Department tuberculosis treatment in local clinics and $4,688 this fiscal year and $9,375 the next for treatment of indigents with cancer.

—Authorize nine positions in the state medical examiner's office and appropriate $80,393 to fund them in the next fiscal year with the money to be matched by the federal government on a 3-1 federal-state ratio.

—Appropriate $262,000 to finance underground installation of a state Capitol electrical system.

—Appropriate $50,000 this fiscal year and $100,000 the next to the Finance and Administration Department for purchase of surplus government property overseas.

The Senate disposed of the House bills with only two dissenting votes being cast.

In other action, the House approved and sent to the Senate bills to:

—Appropriate $398,000 to expand the University Medical Center program to train students for family practice.

—Appropriate $300,000 for the governor's emergency fund. The House also added to the fund $100,000 for state Blind School air condition and repairs and $100,000 for the general adult education program of the State Education Department.

—Approved a bill to permit the purchasing director to grant salary increases to state employees deemed to have been dealt with inequitably by 1971 adjustments in the job classification and compensation plan.

Comic Senate OKays Wilbur Mills Bill

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Senate, in a sometimes comic and sometimes emotional performance, removed an amendment Thursday from "the Wilbur Mills bill" and then passed the bill.

The amendment had been attached Wednesday by Sen. George Locke of Hamburg, who said then he was doing it for someone else whom he wouldn't name.

Sources said that someone was Sen. W. I. Ingram of West Memphis and the amendment was aimed at a potential political foe of Ingram, Mayor Tilden Rogers of West Memphis.

Rogers said he believed Ingram was behind it. Ingram denied any involvement Wednesday and did so several times Thursday.

At one point Ingram told the Senate, "I guess if someone gets shot in here, I'm the one to blame."

The bill would permit an Arkansas candidate for president or vice president to all seek any other political position in the state for which he might be eligible.

Reportedly the measure was designed to permit Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., to seek re-election this year even if he becomes a presidential contender.

Locke's amendment was intended to provide that no officeholder still in the first three-fourths of his term could seek another office without first resigning from the current position.

That provoked widespread reaction from other officeholders, according to several senators Thursday.

However, as written, the amendment failed to do precisely what Locke said it was intended to accomplish.

He told the Senate Thursday that remarks made about Ingram by Rogers were unjustified. Ingram said the same thing. So did Sens. Guy H. "Mutt" Jones of Conway and Harold King of Sheridan, who added that he loved the Senate "old-timers" for their aid to him.

"It was my amendment," Locke said. "I signed the amendment. No influence was put upon me by any member of this body."

Sen. Dorothy Allen of Brinkley asked him at one point if he knew how far-reaching the amendment was. Locke answered, "Yes, Ma'am, I do. I've heard all the way from the halls of Congress."

After one faulty attempt to remove the amendment, Locke finally got the amendment deleted and the bill was approved.

The same bill was enacted in 1971, but later was repealed in that legislative session because of an oversight.

Rogers said that he had contemplated running against Ingram, but had about decided not to seek the position until the amendment came up.

Now, he said, he is determined to run unless something changes his mind. He is in the second year of his four-year term.

Precipitation on Its Way

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The precipitation is slow in beginning, but the National Weather Service says it is on its way.

A weak front, located across Northern Arkansas this morning in association with a low pressure area in Oklahoma, will move through the state today and tonight bringing with it the chance of precipitation.

In some northern areas of the state the precipitation may come in the form of snow, but the weather service says the accumulation will not be much because the front is weak.

Precipitation will end from the northwest tonight with warmer temperatures and decreasing cloudiness over the state Saturday.

The highs around the state Thursday ranged from 31 at Memphis to 58 at El Dorado.

Overnight lows were Fayetteville, 36; Harrison, 36; Pine Bluff, 36; El Dorado, 40; Memphis, 31; Little Rock, 34 and Fort Smith, 39.

A trace of precipitation was recorded during the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today.

19 Escape Prison at Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Nineteen men sawed their way out of the Warrensville Workhouse and escaped, prison officials said today.

The men cut through bars in a gymnasium, climbed onto a roof, dropped 24 feet to the ground and made what authorities believe was the largest mass escape in the institution's history.

One inmate was captured soon after the break Thursday night and two others were seized early today following a high speed chase. Officials said they had stolen a car and were pursued and caught in suburban Lakewood.

The break was discovered during a bed check.

Workhouse commissioner Kenneth Cooley said 16 of the prisoners were awaiting trial on felony charges and the other three were serving municipal court sentences. The 62-year-old institution is located in suburban Warrensville Heights.

Muskie Assault Kept Alive

By GREGG HERRINGTON

Associated Press Writer

Richard Nixon and the man expected to run his re-election campaign have indirectly attacked Edmund S. Muskie as the administration's attempted blitz of the Democratic presidential front runner goes into its second week.

Neither President Nixon nor Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell mentioned the Maine senator by name Thursday as, in separate appearances, they kept alive the administration assault picturing Muskie as jeopardizing chances for peace in Indochina.

Nixon told a surprise news conference in the White House that various presidential candidates have proposed solutions to the Vietnam conflict that have gone beyond his own eight-point plan outlined in a nationally broadcast speech

Jan. 25.

The President told newsmen that other proposals for peace could lead North Vietnam to decide it "might be well advised to wait until after the election rather than negotiate."

Muskie has called Nixon's eight-point plan a retreat of old ideas and offered a plan of his own.

Later, at a Republican fundraising dinner in Washington, Mitchell criticized Muskie by omission.

Mitchell, expected to give up his Justice Department post no later than mid-spring to run Nixon's campaign, praised Democratic candidates Hubert H. Humphrey and Henry M. Jackson.

Those two, and Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana Mitchell told the $100-a-plate audience of about 500, have refrained "from doing or saying anything which could undercut the President or his position of negotiation, or encourage Hanoi to prolong the war in the hope of getting a better deal after election day."

Muskie, who is in New Hampshire campaigning for the March 7 primary election, announced Jan. 25 his criticism of the President's eight-point plan and predicted it probably would not be accepted by the North Vietnamese. Since that day, numerous administration and Republican congressional leaders have zeroed in on him.

GOP National Chairman Robert J. Dole and Nixon's chief of communications, Herbert Klein, also attacked Muskie in separate speeches Thursday night.

Election Issue Is Adopted

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Senate adopted an amendment to the administration's election bill Thursday to reflect a compromise and came close to adopting an amendment to set a campaign spending limit.

The compromise was reached Wednesday between Gov. Dale Bumpers, Democratic party officials and legislators handling the governor's proposal.

The amendment, offered by Sen. Harold King of Sheridan, would set the first primary on May 30 and the runoff on June 13.

The filing period would be from March 13 to April 4 and the parties' state committees would be directed to prescribe the method of naming their state delegates to the national party convention.

The Senate Elections Committee earlier in the day had given the bill a recommendation for passage with the amendment.

Sen. Oscar Alagood of Little Rock offered an amendment to set a ceiling on campaign spending. The ceiling set by the amendment was an amount nine times the salary for the office sought.

Explaining the amendment, Alagood said, for example, that the ceiling would amount to $10,800 in one race.

Redistricting last year placed Alagood and Sen. Ben Allen of Little Rock in the same district for this year's elections. Allen cracked from his Senate seat, "I've already spent that much."

Later, Allen said he had been joking. He reportedly has begun gearing up for the election campaign, however, including some work by staff personnel.

On a voice vote, Sen. Morrell Gathright of Pine Bluff said he could not determine whether the amendment succeeded or failed but if asked to make a ruling he would say it failed.

Alagood asked for a standing vote and the count indicated the measure had failed by getting only 16 of the 18 votes necessary for passage.

Then, on a roll call, only 16 senators voted for the amendment. Two, Allen and Sen. Dorothy Allen of Brinkley, voted against the amendment.

Present by not voting on the amendment were Sens. John F. Bearden Jr. of Leachville, Virgil T. Fletcher of Benton, Joe T. Ford of Little Rock, Gathright in the role of presiding officer, Robert Harvey of Swifton, Ralph Hudson of Harrison, Darrell Johnson of Van Buren, Harold King of Sheridan, W.D. Moore Jr. of El Dorado, Knox Nelson of Pine Bluff and J.A. Womack of Camden.

AM&N Blacks Protest

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Hundreds of black students from Arkansas AM&N College at Pine Bluff came to the Capitol Thursday to urge repeal of the merger of the predominantly black college into the University of Arkansas.

A 1971 law sets the merger for July 1 if certain conditions can be worked out.

Blacks packed the galleries above each legislative chamber and each chamber went into committee of the whole to hear spokesmen for the visitors.

Tommie McCall, president of the AM&N Student Government Association, said that integration as it has progressed in Arkansas has really amounted to white takeover of black institutions.

Black teachers have been fired, he said, when integration took place. Black officials have been demoted, McCall said. He added that Arkansas once had about 100 black principals in public schools but that the number now was less than half of that. AM&N, he said, is "the last stronghold" of blacks in policy-making positions.

Other youths, McCall said, have told him, "Wow, if we lose AM&N College, we lose it all."

Because of the way integration has worked the black student is "alienated, frustrated and sometimes must get a lawyer to get him back in school when a school board expels him for some idiotic reason," McCall said.

That remark drew applause from the galleries.

He said that if AM&N is merged, it would become a predominantly white institution within five years. The event, he said, would set race relations in Arkansas back 70 to 80 years.

McCall said that he went to the U of A three months ago and found that about 400 black students there were conducting a moratorium at the Fayetteville campus.

"When close to 400 black students' problems can't be dealt with effectively on the Fayetteville campus, how can we expect black problems to be dealt with at Pine Bluff (under the merger) when it's over 400 miles away?" McCall asked.

Pryor Will Tell Plans February 19

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., said Thursday night he would announce his political plans for this year at a news conference Feb. 19 in Camden.

A source close to Pryor said earlier Thursday the congressman probably would announce his intentions to seek the senate seat of John L. McClellan.

Pryor said in a television interview taped for showing Tuesday night on KARK that he realized it would be very difficult to defeat McClellan.

"If I decide to enter the race, I will not go into it trying to defeat Sen. McClellan," Pryor said. "I would go into the race with my own programs and let our system of the Democratic process work its will."

Pryor said he would approach voters with the attitude: "If you can support me I would appreciate it."

The congressman said he hoped a number of people would enter the race "because the more the merrier and the better chance I would have of winning."

Pryor said a large field of candidates would generate more votes from a broader spectrum of voters.

"With just two people in the race the issues might not be as exciting," he said. "The more people, the better my chances of winning because the name of the game is to run second. Normally, the incumbent in an election cannot survive if he finds himself in a runoff."

Pryor also said that if he ran against McClellan, his chances of winning would be helped by what he said would be a "very large" turnout of young voters.

McClellan has called a news conference for Friday and Ted Boswell of Bryant has called a news conference for Saturday. McClellan is expected to announce for re-election and Boswell is expected to say he will oppose McClellan.

DAR Chapter Meets
The John Cain Chapter of the DAR met at the Town and Country at noon on Wednesday, February 9, with 16 members and one guest, Mrs. Ernest Cox of Fulton. Spring flowers were used as table decoration by the hostesses, Mrs. Joe Keesey, Mrs. W. H. Mobley, Mrs. Floyd Matthews, and Mrs. Frank McLarty.

The Regent, Mrs. Paul Klipsch, and the Chaplain, Mrs. C. B. Voss, opened the meeting with the ritual, and Mrs. Klipsch read a message from the President General, Mrs. Donald Spiker.

Mrs. Keesey was in charge of the program, "Our Colonial Beginnings—One Nation Under God." She traced the historic development of our government through the Mayflower Compact and the Constitution, always bearing in mind the passage from Daniel 17:32, "The people who know God shall stand firm and take action."

Mrs. H. W. Mobley gave a national defense message, "The United Nations As Judas," in which the U.N. was criticized for "an arrogant disregard for peaceful, law-abiding citizens through the expulsion of Nationalist China and the admission of Red China."

The registrar, Mrs. Wilbur Jones, announced the names of two new members, Mrs. Robbie Formby Brown and Mrs. Mary Appel Gamble. Mrs. John Keck read a letter of appreciation from the Ashdown High School Librarian, Mrs. John C. Smith, for the DAR magazine subscription.

Lilac Club Meets
When the Hope Lilac Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. L. C. Collins on Wednesday, February 9, Mrs. J. W. Feild and Mrs. Connie Ward served as co-hostesses.

Mrs. Lelia Jordan of Blevins presented a most interesting program on the Holy Land. She told about a visit she had made to that area and illustrated her talk with colorful picture cards.

The meeting had been opened by the creed being repeated in unison. Mrs. Pauline Walker, President, directed the business during which proposed landscaping studies were discussed.

Mrs. Curtis Urry was elected Sunshine Chairman. Using a Valentine theme, the hostesses served cherry cake, nuts, chips, tea and coffee to 15 members and one guest, Mrs. Dorothy Leiper.

Plain Allergic to St. Valentine's Day

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—There is one time in the year when I feel like hiding in bed all day with the covers pulled over my head.

That is on St. Valentine's Day.

I am allergic to it. It is a red-headed day for all the earth's lovers, but Valentine's Day is just another nosebleed to me.

Nothing nice ever happened on Valentine's Day to me.

The only thing I ever got on Feb. 14 was trouble.

It all started on Feb. 14, 1916, the year the Battle of Jutland was fought and I entered kindergarten.

I bought an insulting penny valentine and started to leave it on the desk of the manifest little girl in the class, of whose muscles we were all in awe.

Someone in the class rattled on me, and the next thing I knew this 65-pound baby tigress was sitting astride my chest and pounding my head on the wooden floor. I still wake up every Valentine's morning with a ringing in my ears.

I guess I must have been 12 when I was a street newsboy and fell deeply in love with blonde middle-aged wife of a man who ran a cleaning shop.

She was so tall I had to make echoes if I wanted her to look down and smile at me.

On Valentine's Day, while she was in the back of the shop, I put a newspaper on her desk as usual—plus my gift, a box of cheap face powder—and fled.

Later, she called me back to her shop and handed me a sealed envelope. Outside, I opened it with trembling hands—and out fell a dollar bill.

No life before or since has ever been so crushed in ignominy. No lacy valentine, no tender note—just a paltry buck. Did she think a love as fine as mine was for sale?

On Feb. 14, 1943 in Tunisia I bit down on an Army-rationed Tootsie Roll—and out fell one of my teeth. I still keep it among my Valentine's Day souvenirs.

But the worst of my blunders came on Feb. 14, 1938, when I had been married only a few months. I had failed to buy my new wife a gift and when she remarked about it, I said:

"Why should I give you a present? We're married now. Valentine's Day is a single girl's racket."

Well, that unfortunate husbandly remark has been haunting me for 34 years now.

A happy St. Valentine's Day? Impossible. It's a kind of Doomsday to me.

Second Thoughts...Too Late

Dear Helen:

About a month ago we put our newborn up for adoption. The reasons were many but the main one was that our marriage just wasn't working out. We realize the baby is much better off with TWO loving parents than in a broken home. So I filed for divorce and the baby went to its new home directly from the hospital. No, I'd never try to get him back. He's theirs.

I'm now attending business college and will soon have a good job. My new life is shaping up well—alone—but Helen, I miss the baby so much that I sink into deep depression.

I try to keep extra busy with work, school, play. I even cleaned the neighbor's barn. I concentrate on happy thoughts, but still the thoughts of my baby haunt me. How can I get over this?—MISSING ONE LITTLE ONE

Dear Missing:

The breakup of a marriage generates an overwhelming sense of failure—even when the marriage was entirely bad.

Add to this the loss of your baby—even when you know he is better off where he is—and guilt combines with self-doubt to bring you very low.

Concentrate on doing things that make you feel proud of yourself. Fill your life with accomplishments. Find new friends and bask in the assurance that they care for you. And remember—time heals. You may never entirely outgrow wondering how "it might have been," but you WILL learn to live with it.—HELEN

Dear Helen:

My niece is going to be married soon. Her parents are separated. The father won't give her away, and the mother "doesn't know whether or not she can come." The girl isn't living at home, but she wants a big wedding—which she'll pay for with the help of her fiancé.

An added complication: her husband-to-be has asked his friend (a Negro) to stand as best man. Everyone is trying to talk them out of a big wedding because of these things. I suspect the mother won't attend because of the color problem.

In view of all these difficulties, wouldn't it be better to keep the wedding simple and small?—AUNT OF THE BRIDE

Dear Aunt:

I think ANY wedding should remain simple and small—but that's a personal preference and one I don't push on others.

Perhaps your niece could have a nontraditional ceremony which would eliminate walking down an aisle with her father—or even having a special church pew for parents... a garden or park wedding, perhaps.

The best man? This is the bridegroom's choice, and those who don't approve can jolly well stay away. Their prejudices might ruin the day.—H.

Dear Helen:

Your reply to "Modern Hostess" who worries about sleeping arrangements for guests who think marriage is unnecessary, appalled me! You said, "Let these friends sleep wherever they wish—it's their decision."

Let me tell you something: Morals are everybody's business, especially in your own home. The fact that M.H. is bothered is a good sign she disapproves. If she is really a friend of these immoral people she will try to straighten them out and show them they should either part or get married. Let her be guided by her own conscience. —MODERN CHRISTIAN

Dear Christian:

You forget that "Modern Hostess" said she and her husband had visited these friends in THEIR apartment.

Her main worry was not disapproval or moral indignation, but "What will my uptight neighbors think?" In HER eyes, the couple was as good as wed. And who's to say whether a lasting relationship, without that little legal paper, is immoral or not? Isn't it possible these two feel married "in the sight of God?"—H.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board has been asked to rule on a practice by some airline companies, which Delta Air Lines claims could hike fares another notch or two.

Delta told the board in a statement Wednesday that such luxuries as piano bars in jumbo Boeing 747s and the installation of tourist lounges "reduce aircraft productivity and drastically increase the per seat cost of every airplane."

The airline asked the CAB for an immediate ruling and indicated a difficulty in holding out "against the incessant advertising campaigns" of its competitors.

CAB is investigating domestic passenger fares.

'Little Girls' Give U.S. Olympic Medals

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAPPORO, Japan (AP) — As the song says: "Thank Heavens For Little Girls ..." Without 'em the United States wouldn't have a medal to show for its efforts in the 11th Winter Olympic Games.

But with 'em, America's got six tucked away, three of them golds, which makes this its most successful winter Olympics in two decades.

The third gold came rocketing out of a heavy snowstorm Friday in the personage of Barbara Cochran, a 20-year-old skiing whiz from Richmond, Vt., who mad-dashed her way to victory in the women's special slalom.

It came only two hours after Anne Henning put the third American bronze medal on the board in the 1,000-meter speed skating. The 16-year-old miss from Northbrook, Ill., who had won the 500 meters on Thursday, finished less than a quarter of a second behind West German winner Monika Pflug.

The American men, shut out thus far, tried Friday night to get their first medal in the figure skating—but chances were slim at best. Ken Shelley of Downey, Calif., was fifth, John Mischa Petkevitch sixth and Gordon McKellen 10th as the free skating finals began.

Miss Cochran, who managed to finish only 11th in the giant slalom, brought America its first gold in Alpine skiing—the men have never won that Olympic event—since the 1952 Games in Oslo, Norway, when the United States finished with four golds.

She did it with an all-or-nothing effort that resulted in a fastest first-run time of 46.05 seconds, when she was first down the slope, and a second-fastest time of 45.19 on the second run for a total time of 1:31.24, an incredibly scant two hundredths of a second less than silver medalist Danielle Debernard of France.

"This is definitely my mind of course," Barbara said after her triumph, which was climaxed by a kissing, hugging mob scene and a brief victory ride on the shoulders of her ecstatic teammates and coaches. "I usually do better on a steep course than a turning one."

After being the initial skier in the first run—"I liked the No. 1 start ... because there was a light snow cover"—she was 15th in the second, when the snow really began coming down.

"I didn't watch any of the first 14," she said, "because I didn't want to know the times and, if they were having trouble, I didn't want to see them." She probably couldn't have, anyway, because of the downfall.

Asked how she felt about recent criticism that American athletes are too soft, she replied: "I think our skiers train as hard as anyone—and the results today prove it!"

The Northbrook crowd, which has had plenty to cheer about, was ready for more as Miss

Cochrans Glued to TV Sets

RICHMOND, Vt. (AP) — The skiing Cochran family, glued to its television set Thursday night, watched daughter Barbara win a gold medal in the women's slalom in the Winter Olympics at Sapporo, Japan.

"We were pretty happy," said Mrs. Cochran, "but we were sad for Marilyn. She fell."

Barbara, Marilyn and brother Bob are all members of the U.S. Olympic ski team.

Mrs. Cochran said the family had its fingers crossed when Barbara was skiing.

The telephone interview came to halt with a shout from the rest of the family in the background.

"Can I go now?" Mrs. Cochran asked. "It's on again."

Henning and Dianne Holum, gold medalist in the 1,500 meters, prepared to fulfill their roles as favorites in the 1,000 meters.

But suddenly, there was Miss Pflug, the 17-year-old outsider, gaining the glory with her Olympic-record 1:31.40. Atje Keulen-Deelstra of the Netherlands took the silver in 1:31.61 and, Anne got the bronze in 1:31.62. Dianne wound up sixth at 1:32.51.

In Friday's other finals, Poland's Wejchlich Fortuna soared a magnificent 364 feet 2 inches in the first of two runs in the 90-meter ski jump, more than enough to win the gold.

And the Soviet Union defended its Olympic title in the biathlon relay.

In the four-man bobsled, Switzerland held the lead at the halfway mark. The remaining two runs are scheduled for Saturday. West Germany was second and Italy third. One American team was disqualified in the first heat when its members fell off the sled as it overturned. The No. 2 U.S. team was 12th after the first two runs.

Fortuna, whose second jump was 287-1 for a total of 219.9 points, captured the event which many observers had expected to go to the Japanese, who swept the 70 meters. Yukio Kasaya, took the 70-meter gold but was seventh in the 90 meters.

Second was Switzerland's Walter Steiner, who got the silver with 219.8 points. The bronze went to East Germany's Rainer Schmidt with 219.3. The best American was Ron Steele of Leavenworth, Wash., a distant 25th with 177.7.

Behind the victorious Russian biathlon team were Finland and East Germany, with the United States a surprisingly high sixth, its best Olympic finish ever.

Junior Girls Lose to Stephens

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Unable to put the ball through the hoop consistently after the first few minutes, the Hope Kittycats fell victim to Stephens, 32-28, in the Junior Girls District 7A Tournament at Gurdon.

For the season the Kittycats end up with a fine 16-6 mark, and they won two trophies, one each for second place in the Prescott and Nashville tournaments.

Hitting some first half foul troubles, the Kittycats were in trouble right there as Pogo Griffin pushed up the first half with four fouls and was limited to the second half, trying to keep from getting fouled out. Guard Janie York had to leave the game midway through the final period, committing her fifth personal foul of the night.

During the first few minutes of the game it looked as if the Kittycats would really start the scoreboard to clicking, with Gail East popping in three field goals and Griffin chipping in a charity shot.

However a 7-2, spread was the best Hope could get and by the time East sank her last field goal of the period with 26 seconds left, Stephens had hit enough on the score to pull back within three, 9-6.

Being outscored 13-8, in the second frame, the Kittycats lost the lead for good with only seven seconds left in the half when the Roadrunners converted two free shots for the halftime 19-17, score.

Again it was East getting the points as she hit all four field goals, while Griffin was heading for foul trouble.

Moving on to the third period, Hope could only get two points in the frame while allowing Stephens six points and a 25-19, margin.

After a Hope timeout, Griffin came in to sink a bucket from the top of the circle to pull the Kittycats within four, 23-19, but that was it for the quarter.

Falling behind nine points, 28-19, at the outset of the final period, Hope started up a fourth quarter charge that pulled the margin of difference within two points, before Stephens hit two free throws to finish the game.

With Susan Henley and Griffin combining for a bucket each, the score pushed upward for Hope, as Stephens called timeout with 3:51 left.

Two minutes later the difference had been out to four as Griffin was the only player to hit a point, setting the score at 28-24, with 1:09 remaining.

Another field goal by Henley and two charity shots by Griffin tightened the margin for the Kittycats as they trailed 30-28, with 11 seconds left, with one last chance for the game.

However with only four seconds remaining, the Roadrunners put in the two free throws to ice it down.

East led Hope with 16 points, while Griffin could only get eight, and Henley popped in four.

Guards Melissa Reece, Janice York and Bonnie Roy played some good defense, while Jeannie Kramer came on in the latter part to do well also.

Tonight the Bobcats and Bobkittens travel to Ashdown for a couple of Conference games, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Patrick Trophy Citations

NEW YORK (AP) — John "Snooks" Kelley, Boston College coach, and Ralph "Cooney" Welland, former Harvard coach, were cited today for their contributions to amateur hockey in the United States by being named co-winners of the Lester Patrick Memorial Trophy.

Clarence Campbell, National Hockey League president, was chosen earlier this week as a Patrick Trophy recipient for his contributions to professional hockey in the U.S.

Kelley, whose 466 victories at Boston College is an all-time record for a college hockey coach, is in his 36th season at the Newton, Mass. school.

Seattle Is a Problem

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Seattle is a problem. And Baltimore, Atlanta, Cincinnati and Cleveland haven't come up with an answer all season.

The four teams which comprise the National Basketball Association's Central Division have dropped 13 straight games to the SuperSonics this season. No. 13 came Thursday night when Seattle slapped down the Royals 118-96.

The Sonics, third in the NBA's Pacific Division, were led by Spencer Haywood, who scored 28 points. The Royals, third in the Central, got 22 points from Tom Van Arsdale and were hampered by the absence of guard Nate Archibald, out with the flu. Archibald has been averaging 35 points in the last 16 games.

In other NBA games Phoenix defeated Baltimore 131-98 and Golden State topped Philadelphia 121-112.

Kentucky beat the Floridians 119-101 and Virginia downed Pittsburgh 131-111 in American Basketball Association action.

Baltimore, playing without center Wes Unseld, out with an ankle injury, lost its sixth straight. Dick Van Arsdale led Phoenix with 27 points and Paul Silas 25. A strong Suns' defense held the Bullets to just 34 points in the second period.

Jack Marin had 24 and Archie Clark 18 for Baltimore.

Golden State, behind the 32-point performance of Nate Thurmond, rallied in the second half to overcome Philadelphia. The Warriors trailed by as much as 14 points and 63-53 at the half. Jeff Mullins added 27 for Golden State, which record its 18th victory in the last 22 games. The 76ers, playing without Billy Cunningham, who has a leg injury, were led by Fred Foster with 30 points and Bob Rule with 26.

Rookie Julius Erving scored seven points in 55 seconds to break an 82-82 third-quarter tie and pace Virginia to victory. With Erving scoring 30 points and Charlie Scott 34, the Squires outshot Pittsburgh from the floor 57 per cent to 36 per cent.

It was the Squires' fifth straight victory, their longest win streak of the season. Dave Lattin led the Condors with 26 points while Mike Lewis had 20 and John Brisker 19.

The Floridians' loss was their 15th in the last 18 games, leaving them a half game from last place in the ABA East. Dan Issel scored 28 points and Mike Gale 21 for East-leading Kentucky.

The Floridians were never really in the game as Kentucky spurred to a 26-16 lead in the first 11 minutes and never trailed. Walt Simon finished with 20 points for the Colonels. Willie Long had 23 points for Floridians and Al Tucker scored 16.

Rosburg Leads Hope Dessert

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Building Bob Rosburg, who hasn't won a major tournament in more than 10 years, scored another round for middle-aged America by taking sole possession of the lead after 36 holes of the $145,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic.

The 45-year-old ex-Stanford University baseball player shot a three-under-par 69 Thursday at Bermuda Dunes Country Club for a total of 136. He was one stroke ahead of his first-round codelander, Jerry Heard, who had a 70 at the longer La Quinta Country Club course.

Four-time Desert Classic winner and defending champion Arnold Palmer, with a 68 at El Dorado Country Club, and Deane Beman were another stroke back at 137. Beman turned in the day's best score, 66, at Indian Wells Country Club.

Thirty-six players were under par going into today's third round in this unique pro-am setup being played in sunshine and temperatures near 80. Pros play in foursomes with three amateurs for 72 holes through Saturday, then play by themselves in Sunday's 18-hole finale at Indian Wells.

"I can win again, Rosburg said," "I'm saying this for the first time in five years. I'm playing well enough to win, putting well enough to win, but winning is something that just happens ..."

Rosburg, who won the 1959 PGA championship, last picked up the winner's check at the 1961 Bing Crosby National Pro-Am.

He sank birdie putts of 30 and 36 feet in his round at Bermuda Dunes.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Gardner-Webb of North Carolina defeated the university of Guadalajara 113-52 in the four-team round-robin basketball tournament Thursday night.

Other teams are Mexico University and Monterrey Tech.

"We'll be drafting from all levels—professional, college, amateur and European," he said.

"And Olympic hockey players, too," added the WHA's executive vice president, Dennis Murphy.

Davidson, the league president, said such a diverse draft could create a bidding war between the new league and the established National Hockey League. Those NHL players whose contracts run out this year are eligible for the WHA draft, Davidson says, because the WHA doesn't recognize the NHL's reserve clause.

Each team will select players from a four-man negotiation list. Many players have already been contacted, said Davidson, and for that reason, trades are quite likely. Thus if a team has firm commitments from two or more players and feels one of them may get away in an upcoming round, it may trade a previous draft pick to get two choices in a later round.

The National Football League club said Thursday it also signed defensive end Harold Sutton of Temple, an honorable mention All-East selection in 1971.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers have signed Brad Evans, a 6-foot-3, 205-pound defensive back from Duke. He was the first free agent to sign since the 1972 player draft.

The biggest change Esposito said he had to make was in his Dunes. "I drove in the rough six or seven times. I'm disappointed with my driving but I really did putt well today," he said.

George Knudson of Toronto, and young John Miller were another stroke back at 138.

Seven players, including veterans Chi Chi Rodriguez and Billy Casper, were grouped at 139.

Club pro Jimmy Powell, just passes to Walton, who is a left-handed shot.

Fred Stanfield led the assault against Vancouver goalie George Gardner with two goals while Bobby Orr had one goal and three assists.

Eddie Westfall, Derek Sanderson and Don Marcotte also scored for the Bruins.

Vancouver's only goal was scored by Rosaire Pailment.

Rookie Guy Lafleur scored three goals, Frank Mahovlich contributed a goal and four assists and Ken Dryden was superb in the nets as Montreal whipped Chicago. The seven-goal explosion against the NHL's top defensive club included two assists by Serge Savard, making his first home appearance since he suffered a fractured left ankle more than a year ago.

Larry Pleau, Pete Mahovlich and Yvan Cournoyer got the other Canadian goals while Chicago's Cliff Koroll spoiled Dryden's shutout bid midway through the final period.

Minnesota got brilliant goaltending from Gump Worsley in beating St. Louis. The 42-year-old goalie was beaten only by Frank St. Marseille early in the third period. By then, the North Stars had a 2-0 lead on goals by Lou Nanne and Jude Drouin.

Detroit trailed Buffalo 2-0 before a strategic move by Coach Johnny Wilson turned the tide. Wilson moved Ron Harris from defense to forward and his aggressive checking loosened up the Sabres' defense. Harris then set up the Red Wings' first goal by Red Berenson, Mickey Redmond knotted the score with his 33rd goal and Marcel Dionne got the tie-breaker.

Pittsburgh got even for an 11th time in Los Angeles five days earlier by trimming the Kings as Ron Schock scored twice and set up another goal. Darryl Edestrand, Steve Cardwell, Greg Polis and Bryan Hextall also scored for the Penguins.

Esposito, who has a four-leaf clover and a lucky charm hanging from the name-plate on his locker, was asked if he were superstitious about scoring on his 13th shot of the night.

"Not when it comes to shots on goal," he said. "I'll take 13 shots on goal every night."

Esposito was playing with a new linemate Thursday, and had to make some adjustments.

Mike Walton moved into the left wing spot and Wayne Cashman moved from left wing to right, replacing Ken Hodge who is out with a fractured ankle. Each

Big-Little Same to Dwight Lamar

By ALEX SACHARE
Associated Press Sports Writer
Small college or major college, it's all the same to Dwight Lamar.

The NCAA college division scoring leader last season with a 35 point average, Lamar has picked up right where he left off, even though his school, Southwestern Louisiana, has switched into the major college ranks.

Lamar—on an off night—poured in 42 points Thursday to lead Southwestern Louisiana, 17-2 and ranked 13th in the nation, to a 95-83 victory over McNeese State. The 6-foot-1 guard currently leads the nation's major college scorers with a 35.6 average.

Although Lamar's scoring has been an instrumental factor in Southwestern Louisiana's success, he has had help—much of it from center Roy Ebron, who scored 22 points and pulled down 24 rebounds against McNeese.

The Cajuns led by only 45-43 at the half and did not manage to open the game up until late in the second half. Henry Ray scored 32 points to keep McNeese close.

Southwestern Coach Beryl Shipley said he felt Lamar did not have a good game.

"Lamar didn't have a good shooting night," the coach said. "I'm glad he got 42 points, but he tried about 41 shots."

"We didn't shoot well, but it was understandable," Shipley added.

"We are coming off a five-game road trip and the boys are extremely tired."

In other games involving ranked teams, No. 5 Penn beat Columbia 69-59, No. 8 Long Beach State bowed to Fresno State 76-69 and No. 15 Memphis State was upset by St. Louis 76-72.

The Quakers jumped off to a 30-15 lead midway through the first half and managed to stay at least nine points ahead of Columbia the rest of the way. Penn, 15-2, was paced by junior forward Phil Hankinson's 21 points.

Long Beach State scored just five points in the first 10 minutes as Fresno State built up a 15-point lead. The 49ers, now 18-3, never caught up.

The game was won at the free throw line, where Fresno State, 8-11, scored 28 points. Long Beach State, which saw three of its starters foul out, scored only nine points on free throws.

Clarence Metcalfe led the Bulldogs with 24 points. Ed Ratliff had 20 and Nate Stephens 18 for Long Beach.

Memphis State, trailing 37-20 at halftime, rallied in the second half but fell short of catching St. Louis.

"We just got beat," moaned Memphis Coach Gene Bartow. "We played poorly in the first half (sinking only six of 28 field goal attempts) and couldn't catch up."

Larry Finch of Memphis State, now 14-5, scored 26 points, 22 of them in the second half rally. The Billikens, 13-4, were led by Harry Rogers and Jesse Leonard, each of whom netted 21.

In other major games, Temple beat Seton Hall 71-50 and Cincinnati—getting 40 points from Derrek Dickey—whipped Rutgers 84-74 in a double-header at Madison Square Garden in New York; Brian Taylor scored 36 points to lead Princeton past Cornell 86-69 in an Ivy League battle, and a three-point play by sophomore guard Jack Kill with just 12 seconds to play lifted Dayton to a 91-90 triumph over Chicago Loyola.

Also, Assumption defeated Georgetown, D.C. 90-83, Virginia Tech pounded William & Mary 90-69, Bradley beat Drake 85-69, Tulsa edged North Texas 75-69, Houston downed Centenary 100-83, Texas-El Paso topped Colorado State 77-70.

Brooks Gets Another Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Performance, says Brooks Robinson, is what counts. It separates the good players from the great players on the baseball field, and it leaves a special mark on a man who cares about other people.

Robinson, the All-Star third baseman for the Baltimore Orioles, was honored Thursday for performance when he received an award from Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn as "the player who best typifies the game of baseball on and off the field."

Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants received the first such award last year. Robinson received the most votes in the balloting by a special committee of sportswriters, sportscasters and baseball executives. Others in the final field included Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs, Al Kaline of Detroit and Harmon Killebrew of Minnesota.

The award noted Robinson's involvement in drug abuse education and prevention programs, visits to hospitals, and activities with underprivileged persons. "As flawless as his work is on the field," the award read, "it is matched by his actions, behavior and manners off the field. No request is too big, no demands placed upon him are too great."

Opening lead—A J

By Oswald & James Jacoby
It is almost impossible for North and South to keep out of four hearts with today's cards. Of course, if North is a no-trump he will respond one no-trump to his partner's heart opening and then bid three no-trump after the correct three heart rebid.

This time the no-trump would be right and three no-trump is a cinch. There is no real play for four hearts but South brought it home.

East put his ace of spades on dummy's queen and led back the queen of diamonds. South ducked and East continued with the jack. South played his ace this time. Then he cashed his club ace! West played the four spot and South was home with the bacon. He entered dummy with a trump, ruffed the six of spades; entered dummy with a second trump; discarded his last diamond on the king of spades; ruffed dummy's last diamond and led one of his low clubs.

West was stuck in with the king of clubs and had to lead a spade or a diamond. It did not matter which. South ruffed in dummy and discarded his last club.

South was lucky. He found West with king and one club and each opponent with exactly two trumps but South had given the cards every chance.

Note that he led the ace of clubs as soon as he got in. If he had postponed that play the chances are that West would have dropped the king under the ace.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS
During the late 1940s, when aircraft increased in weight, disk brakes replaced drum brakes. The World Almanac recalls that disk brakes were first used on racing cars at Le Mans, France, in the early 1950s. Today they are used on most European cars and are becoming increasingly popular on American autos.

Great Race: Wages vs. Prices
By CARLTON SMITH
Have your pay raises kept pace with the cost of living in the past year and a half—or has inflation actually cut your earnings, in terms of buying power?
The white collar worker, at least, has managed to inch ahead a little in the race with inflation. In the 12-month period covered by the annual survey of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, pay increased an average 6.6 per cent, while the Consumer Price Index rose 4.5 per cent—leaving the worker ahead by a couple of cents on the dollar.
The trouble is that there's no such thing as "the white collar worker." That label covers, in the survey, everyone from office boys to top-level corporation lawyers. And, as you might guess, some fared better than others in the annual purchasing-power sweepstakes.
Stenos did pretty well, averaging an 8.1 per cent pay increase. The largest increase, 11.3 per cent, went to chief accountants. The smallest, a meager 1 per cent, was the bad news for top-level attorneys. But dry your tears; the average salary in this group was $33,375 a year.
White-collar pay has taken a strong upward surge during the past four years. From 1961 to 1966, annual increases averaged 2.7 per cent for clerical workers, 3.4 per cent for those labeled "PAT"—professional, administrative and technical personnel. The surge began in 1966-67, with a 4.5 per cent increase, and "each year following has been marked by a larger increase than the preceding one," it's noted in a summary of the annual survey, appearing in the current Monthly Labor Review.
The general increase of 6.6 per cent in the past year was "the largest annual rise the Bureau of Labor Statistics has recorded in the past 11 years," says the summary.
It may be that your own personal survey, conducted by counting what's left in your pocketbook at the end of the month, conveys less optimistic news about your race with inflation. That's because the Consumer Price Index, like "the white collar worker," is a statistic and a fiction.
Statisticians may conclude that "the cost of living" rose 4.5 per cent during the period of the survey, but that's not necessarily, or even probably your cost of living. Prices of some of the items that hit your pocketbook the hardest were running well ahead of pay increases.
Helping to hold the CPI increase down to 4.5 per cent, for example, is one item in the average, the price of vinyl sheeting—which actually decreased a little. But maybe you didn't buy much vinyl sheeting.
As for that 6.6 per cent pay increase—if you got any of it—better enjoy it while you can. The evidence so far suggests that wage and price controls are controlling wages more effectively than prices.

The Hope Star
Hope, Arkansas 71801

Gentlemen:

I have delayed too long in expressing my gratitude to you and the businessmen of Hope for the religious feature published each week on behalf of the churches of this community.

This is a helpful stewardship effort on the part of our newspaper and our many business friends. It helps to recreate an awareness of Christian principles and encourages an improved spiritual atmosphere in the Hope area.

I want to thank you and all the sponsors that make this page possible in our newspaper.

Sincerely,

"Most governments have been based, practically, on the denial of equal rights of men...ours began by affirming those rights:

They said some men are too ignorant and vicious to share in government. Possibly so, said we; and by your system, you would always keep them ignorant and vicious. We proposed to give all a chance, and we expected the weak to grow stronger, the ignorant wiser, and all better and happier together."

"Nearly 80 years ago, we began by declaring that all men are created equal; but now from that beginning we have run down to the other declaration that for some men to enslave others is a 'sacred right of self-government.' These principles cannot stand together. They are as opposite as God and mammon, and whoever holds to the one must despise the other."

"Let us discard all this quibbling about this man and the other man, this race and that race and the other race being inferior, and therefore they must be placed in an inferior position...let us discard all these and unite as one people, throughout this land, until we shall once more stand up declaring that all men are created equal."

Two British Soldiers Killed

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer
BELFAST (AP) — A road mine presumably planted by the Irish Republican Army blew up a British army jeep near the border Thursday night, killing two British soldiers. And in Belfast a gunman shot Wednesday night in a fight with police died in a hospital.

This raised the death toll to 243 in Northern Ireland's religious-political warfare, including 37 this year.

Bombs also exploded in downtown Belfast and in the center of Armagh. British troops skirmished with bands of youths in Coalisland. No casualties were reported in these incidents.

The British Cabinet was reported weighing a proposal for new peace talks between leaders of Northern Ireland's Protestant majority and the Roman Catholic minority. But the titular leader of the Protestants, provincial Premier Brian Faulkner, took a hard line toward the only thing that might bring the Catholics to the table—relaxation of the internment without trial of suspected IRA guerrillas.

The Catholics and their representatives in the provincial Parliament, the Social Democratic and Labor party, have vowed not to participate in any talks until internment is ended. The British Cabinet reportedly agrees that internment must continue in force, but "we think we can tinker with it a bit" by allowing the release or trial of minor and political offenders, one official in London said.

Faulkner did not make clear how much tinkering he would agree to. But he told a rally of his ruling Unionist party: "It will be utterly wrong to let the internment issue become a political bargaining counter. It would clearly be quite wrong and irresponsible to release dangerous men in circumstances where they would simply resume terrorist activity."

He added that no governmental system would work in Northern Ireland if the Protestant majority felt it would be unfair to them. The new British proposal reportedly includes a statement that ultimate reunion of Northern Ireland and the Irish republic is not ruled out so long as it can be achieved peacefully and with the consent of the Protestants.

Blonde Scuba Girl Has Been Subpoenaed

MIAMI (AP) — The second mystery woman in the Clifford Irving-Howard Hughes "autobiography" mystery, a fetching blonde scuba diving instructor, has been subpoenaed by U.S. Postal Service agents to testify before a federal grand jury in New York.

Agents went to the modest North Miami apartment of 29-year-old Ann Baxter on Thursday and delivered the subpoena.

She is expected to be questioned about her reported trip to St. Croix in the Virgin Islands with Irving last December and about any meetings between the author and Hughes.

Irving claims he went to St. Croix for what he said was one of his many interviews with Hughes in preparing an autobiography of the billionaire recluse. Hughes has filed an affidavit in New York saying he has never met Irving.

Life magazine reported that Miss Baxter, a 5-foot-9 beauty, accompanied Irving to the Virgin Islands as his scuba diving tutor.

Postal agents are investigating possible mail fraud in connection with Irving's sale of the Hughes "autobiography" to the McGraw-Hill Publishing Co.

After serving the subpoena, postal agents took Miss Baxter to the U.S. marshal's office where she drew an advance for a one-way air trip to New York and one day's subsistence allowance. Officials said such advances are "perfectly routine" when a witness pleads a lack of funds to meet an appearance.

Urges War Against American Pollution

By JOHN R. STARR
Associated Press Writer
MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP) — Anthropologist Margaret Mead called Thursday night for mankind to gear up for the war against pollution the way America geared up to win World War II.

A wartime-type effort is absolutely necessary, Mrs. Mead told an audience of more than 1,000 at Southern State College, if the human race is to survive.

What will happen if mankind does not make a united effort? Her answer was simple: "If we don't do it, we won't be here."

The audience, about evenly divided between students and adults, gave the 69-year-old lecturer undivided attention while she talked for an hour about pollution's threat to the planet in one of a series of "What Price Survival" lectures sponsored by the Sperry and Hutchinson Co.

Mrs. Mead said the world faces an entirely new survival situation in which there is no precedent.

"And there is a time limit on what we have to do," she said. "We would do quite well if we had 500 years. But the most anybody gives us is about 50 years if we don't start doing things."

One of the problems, she said, is that no society seems to be willing to act in concert except in wartime.

"We are in a peculiar and parlous state," she said. "We need group action as we've never needed it before, but we can't afford to have a war."

Mrs. Mead said that the kind of problem we face is difficult to think about but that unless mankind takes some definite steps very soon it may destroy the cloud cover which protects the planet from the rays of the sun and the oceans which cool the earth and make it livable.

"It is difficult to start worrying about a creeping danger," she said. "We react to the 'clear and present danger'."

Mrs. Mead said she could not stress too much how new the problem is.

"Until recently, nobody knew you could kill a lake," she said.

For centuries, Mrs. Mead said, mankind warred over possession of land. Today the land is in no great danger from pollution, she said. The air and the water are in danger of pollution and neither of these is a commodity that man can seize and possess.

"Mankind is now faced with either we all share or save the air and the water, or none of us will be here," she said.

If the problem is to be solved, she said, the human race must invent a whole new style of life with less emphasis on consumption of power and production of plastics and other products which do not decay and return to the ecological change.

She said population control is a necessity and birth control is a part of that necessity. "They are all nice people but they don't have to be born this week," she said.

Bethel's Junior Choir will open the worship ritual and Mrs. Rosie L. Davis is Mistress of Ceremonies. A tot's march will climax the program's aspect of drama.

The pastor and members of Bethel join Mrs. Thelma Bishop, Usher Board President in extending a cordial welcome to the public.

Bizarre Threat Told

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP) — A bizarre threat to kidnap and shoot Karen Herd, Miss Idaho of 1971 and first runnerup in the Miss America pageant, was revealed in District Court.

The story, came to light when a Jane Doe—listed as the victim in a criminal complaint—was amended to give Miss Herd's name.

"It was simply a value judgment, whether the real victim's name should be used or not," Deputy Bonneville County Prosecuting Attorney Thomas C. Whyte said in explaining why Miss Herd's name had been kept secret.

The complaint was amended Wednesday after an Idaho Falls man, Keith Blaylock, 23, pleaded guilty before District Judge Boyd R. Thomas to third degree felony charges of threatening to commit a crime of violence against a person in connection with the incident.

Whyte said a threatening letter sent to Karen's residence

Hexachlorophene Stopped, Infections Break Out

By JOHN STOWELL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The government says reports of infection outbreaks have more than doubled within the past week in hospital nurseries that stopped bathing babies with the germ-fighter hexachlorophene.

The National Center for Disease Control in Atlanta said it has received reports of 106 cases of staphylococcal infections in 24 nurseries in 23 hospitals and is investigating eight additional reports of outbreaks.

A week ago, at a meeting with officials representing the Food and Drug Administration and the American Academy of Pediatrics, the NCDC said it had reports of 74 infections in 23 hospital nurseries.

"Most cases have had minor skin disease and no fatalities have been reported," the new report said, but most of the bacterial infections have been resistant to penicillin and "resistance to other antibiotics has been found in some cases."

After the FDA publicly warned doctors and hospitals on Dec. 8 not to use three-per-cent hexachlorophene (HCP) solutions for routine total body bathing of infants and adults, the Atlanta agency asked state health departments to report promptly any outbreaks of staph infections. An outbreak is defined as two or more concurrent cases.

Staph infections range in severity from skin rashes to impetigo and, in rare instances, can be fatal. In 1944, a total of 174 persons including 17 children under the age of 1 died of staph.

The FDA and the baby doctors concluded after their meeting that the possible toxic effect of HCP bathing outweighs its benefit as a germ-fighter.

The NCDC report noted, however, that "collective experience of a number of investigators over the last 20 years has provided a large body of evidence that prophylactic (preventive) bathing of infants with hexachlorophene has been of value in conjunction with other measures" in controlling staph.

Except for short-term skin rashes in .1 per cent of newborns, the NCDC said, "There have been no reports of infant toxicity or other harm produced by normal conditions of use."

Hopeful China Trip Is Fruitful

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, while cautioning against great optimism about his fast-approaching China trip, said he hopes it will begin a new chapter of better communication and freedom from war.

"These are our hopes," Nixon told a news conference in his Oval Office Thursday as he disclosed he will leave for Communist China Feb. 17.

Asked whether his talks with China's Mao Tse-tung and Chou En-lai would be considered dialogue or negotiations, the President said:

"They will be primarily dialogue ... there will necessarily have to be a substantial amount of dialogue before we can come to the point of negotiating on substantive matters."

Because the United States and China have been isolated from each other for nearly a quarter century, Nixon said, he expects his conversations with Mao and Chou "will be much longer ... than with the leaders of other governments that we have visited."

The President, who talked uninterrupted about his China trip for the first 15 minutes of his meeting with newsmen, said:

"As far as my agenda is concerned, there will not be a great deal of what I would call ... sightseeing. There will be some ... but we have both agreed that this visit is one, taking place as it does at this time, in which first priority must be given to our talks and sightseeing must come second."

There will be no announced agenda for the conferences, he said, but the Americans and Chinese will cap the week-long visit with a joint communique.

Summarizing his approach to the historic journey, the President said:

"This trip should not be one which would create very great optimism or very great pessimism. It is one in which we must recognize that 20 years of hostility and virtually no communication will not be swept away by one week of discussion."

While referring to "a watershed in the relations between the two governments" and the beginning of a new chapter,

Nixon said, obviously voicing more optimism than pessimism:

"We hope that the new chapter will be one of more communication and that it will ... be marked by negotiation rather than confrontation, and one that will be marked by the absence of armed conflict. These are our hopes."

Nixon said he will fly directly from nearby Andrews Air Force Base, Md., to Hawaii, spend two nights and a day there, then proceed to an overnight stop at Guam before landing on the China mainland Feb. 21.

Independents Are Helped

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Senate passed a bill to do a favor for independent candidates for municipal offices, but declined to do one for the American party Thursday.

The measure, approved 32-0 and sent to the House, would let independents run for municipal offices by getting signatures of only 50 qualified voters on supportive petitions.
